GLADSTONE'S MANIFESTO

The Great English Commoner Appeals to His Midlothian Constituents.

The Issue Clearly Defined—Views of the Unionists—England and Scotland.

LONDON, June 13.—Following is the full text of the manifesto issued by Mr. Gladstone to his Midlothian constituents:

GENTLEMEN: In consequence of the defeat of the bill for the better government of Ireland, the Ministry was advised and Her Majesty was pleased to sanction the dissolution of Parliament for the decision by the nation of the gravest and likewise the simplest issue that has been submitted to it for half a century. It is only a sense of the gravity of this issue which induces me, when nature cries aloud for repose, to seek, after sitting in thirteen Parliaments, a seat in the fourteenth, and with this view to solicit for the fifteenth time the honor of your confidence. At the last election I endeavored in my address and speeches to impress upon you the fact that had arrived in the affairs of Ireland. Weak as the late government was for ordinary purposes, it had great advantages for dealing with that crisis. A comprehensive measure proceeding from that government would have received warm and extensive support from within the ranks of the Liberal party and would probably have closed the Irish controversy within the present session and have left the Parliament of 1885 free to prosecute the now stagnant work of ordinary legislation with the multitude of questions it includes. My earnest hope was to support the late cabinet in such a course of policy. On the 26th day of last January the opposite policy of coercion was declared to have been the choice of the government, the Earl of Carnarvon alone refusing to share in it. The Irish question was thus placed in the foreground to the utter exclusion of every other; the hour, it was felt, had come. The only point remaining was to determine the manner in which it was to be dealt with. In my judgment the proposal of coercion was not justified by the facts, and was doomed to certain and disgraceful failure. Some method of governing Ireland, other than coercion, ought as I thought to be sought for and to be found. Therefore, I viewed with regret the fall of the late cabinet, and when summoned by Her Majesty to form a new one I undertook it on the basis of

AN ANTI-COERCION POLICY.

With the fullest explanations to those whom we I sought as colleagues, when I proposed to examine whether it might be possible to grant Ireland a domestic Legislature and maintain the honor and consolidate the unity of the empire, a government was formed and at once put in hand. You will gentlemen, not understand how and why it is that the affairs of Ireland, and not for the first time, have thrust aside every subject and adjourned our hopes of useful and progressive legislation of first necessities of social order. It forces itself into the van. The late cabinet, though right in giving it that place, were, as we thought wrong in their manner of treating it. It was our absolute duty on taking the government not to adopt their method but to propose another. Thus, gentlemen it is that we present this great and simple issue and demand your decision. Will you govern Ireland by coercion, or will you let Ireland manage her own affairs? To debate in this address on this and that detail of the lately defeated bill, would only be to disguise this issue and would be as futile as to discuss the halting, stumbling, ever shifting and ever advancing projects of an intermediate class which proceeded from the seceding Liberals. There are two clear, positive, and intelligible plans before the world. There is the plan of the government and there is the plan of Lord Salisbury. Our plan is that Ireland should, under well considered conditions

TRANSACT HER OWN AFFAIRS.

His plan is to ask Parliament to renew the oppressive laws and enforce them resolutely for 20 years, by the end of which time he assures that Ireland will be fit to accept any government. On the repeal of the coercion laws you may wish to give this to her. Our opponents, gentlemen, whether Tories or Seceders, have assumed the name of Unionists. I deny them any title to it. In intention, indeed, we are all Unionists alike, but the union they refuse to modify in its present shape is a paper union obtained by force and fraud and has never been sanctioned or accepted by the Irish nation. They are not Unionists, but paper Unionists. True union is to be tested by the sentiments of human beings united. Tried by this criterion, we have less union between Great Britain and Ireland than under the settlement of 1782. Ireland, gentlemen, asks through her lawful representatives for a revival of her legislature. It is not on the face of it an innovating, but a restorative proposal. She urges with truth that the centralization of parliaments has been the division of the people, but she recognizes the fact that union, lawlessly as it was obtained, can not and ought not to be repealed. She is content to receive her legislature in a form divested of the prerogatives which may have impaired her Imperial interests, and are better adapted than the settlement of 1782 to secure her regular control of her own affairs. She has not repelled, but has welcomed stipulations for the protestations of the minority. To such protestations we have given and shall give careful heed, but I trust Scotland will condemn the attempts so singularly made to import into the controversy

THE VENOM OF AN ELEMENT OF RELIGIOUS BIGOTRY.

Let her take warning by the deplorable riots in Belfast and other places in the north. Among the benefits, I anticipate, from your acceptance of our policy, are these: The consolidation of a united Empire and a great addition to our wealth; the stoppage of the heavy, constant and demoralizing waste of public treasure; the abatement, and gradual extinction of ignoble feuds in Ireland, and that development of her resources which experience shows to be the natural consequence of free and orderly government. The redemption of the honor of Great Britain from the stigma fastened on her almost from time immemorable in respect to Ireland by the judament of the whole civilized world, and lastly the restoration of parliament to its dignity and efficiency and regular progress of the business of the country. Well, gentlemen, the first question I now put to you, is how shall Ireland be governed? There is another question behind it and included in it, which is, how are England and Scotland to be governed? You know how for the last six years especially, the affairs of England and Scotland have been impeded, and your Imperial Parliament discredited and disabled; all this has happened while the Nationalists were but a small minority of the Irish members. Without support from so much as a handful of members not Irish. Now they approach ninety, and are entitled to say "we are speaking the views of the Irish nation." It is impossible to deal with this subject by half measures. They are now strong in the British support which brought 318 members to vote for their country, strongest of all in the sense of being right. But, gentlemen, we have done our part, the rest remains for you, the electors of the country. May you be enabled to see through and cast away all delusions, refuse all evil and choose good. WM. E. GLADSTONE.

Gladstone, regardless of the risk of his voice, meditates a fourth Midlothian campaign, but speaks first at Glasgow, where Irish are multitudinous. His spirits and strength are both marvellous. Lord Roseberry's journey to Balmoral, where he is announced to remain till Monday as minister in attendance to the Queen, has a significance much beyond the discharge of a routine duty. Some cabinet minister is supposed to be always in attendance. Lord Rosebarry leaves the foreign office while critical negotiations are pending, because he is almost the only cabinet minister whom the queen personally likes. He is, moreover, Gladstone's intimate personal friend, possesses the full political confidence of his chief, and practically goes as embassador from the prime minister to the sovereign on a mission which circumstances make peculiarly delicate. The strain of the political situation is grievously affecting personal friendship. Civilities and public intercourse are maintained between Gladstone and his ex-colleagues. They continue to refer to each other in the House as "my right honorable friend," but in private, and to some extent in public, the personal bitterness expressed begins to assimilate English politics to French politics. Animosity shows itself most strongly against Chamberlain, but the attempt to justify it by accusing Chamberlain of calumniating Gladstone has broken down.

A controversy has arisen between Parnell and Earl Carnarvon respecting the impressions each formed at a secret interview recently held in Dublin Castle, respecting the Irish question. Each now claims it to have been a matter of mutual misunderstanding.

Chamberlain will preside in the inaugural meeting of the National Radical Union at Birmingham on Thursday.

Parliament has voted supplies to carry on the affairs of the country until next October.

All hope for a reconciliation between Chamberlain and Gladstone is at an end. The Radical leader has recently written a lengthy letter, in which he quotes Gladstone against Gladstone, much to the annoyance of the premier.

Lord Salisbury proposes a policy in place of Gladstone's bill, which embraces local self-government and federation for all parts of the United Kingdom. This may introduce a new issue in the electoral contest, but the vital issue lies with no single individual to determine.

The Times treats dissolution as a penal measure, saying that a parliament only six months old is dissolved in order that Gladstone may endeavor to drive from the House men who accepted his manifesto as sincere, and who loyally adhered to the liberal principles as laid down by himself.

Practically, the result of the election will depend on the degree of harmony between the different sections of unionists who composed Monday's majority. Tory leaders admit the difficulties of inducing local managers to support Liberal Unionist candidates. Liberal caucuses show themselves merciless to members who voted against the second reading. Riland at Burnley and Caine at Barrow were condemned by a great majority They, like many others, must depend for re-election on Tory votes which Chamberlain can afford to reject. His seat in West Birmingham is not attacked, nor is Bright's. Schladhorst is now adviser in general to the cabinet. He does not think they could be disturbed.

THE COMING STRUGGLE.

LONDON, June 13.—Gladstone's time, since his announcement of the proposed dissolution of parliament, has been almost wholly taken up by the selection of candidates for seats to be contested. The number of gentlemen offering themselves is unprecedented and embarrassing. Instead of a dearth of applicants for the honor of fighting under Gladstone's banner, there are far too many, and the trouble is to pick out those most fit. Funds at the disposal of the premier are still insufficient to meet the election expenses of two thirds of the men awaiting to be selected. The question of nominations is therefore left in many cases to private influences. Nothing could be more unfortunate. From South England counties accounts received by Gladstone managers are bad. Three-fourths of these districts are as good as lost to Gladstone, the union of Whigs and Tories and the enormous fund at the command of the unionists rendering the defeat of Gladstone men almost certain. There are, however, coersional boroughs even in the south where the Home Rule organization is strong and hopeful, and gaining every day. Notwistanding the discouraging report from this part of Great Britain, scarcely a seat will be left uncontested. From the rest of the country reports of Liberal agents are satisfactory, especially from the North of England and Wales, and the Liberals maintain their hopes.

WHAT THE TIMES THINKS.

LONDON, June 14.—The Times pronounces Gladstone's manifesto argumentatively and historically weak. "It does not offer," says the Times, "a single argument to prove that coercion is the only alternative policy to Home Rule for Ireland. Chamberlain gave one alternative other than coercion, and John Morley suggested a fourth by admitting that it was impossible to govern Ireland as a crown colony. When worst comes to worst it is always open to Englishmen to say they prefer a nation's peace and simple, to the intolerable demands of Home Rule. It must be made clear that there is another alternative, namely, to give Ireland the local control of her local affairs on the same scale as given to England and Scotland, or principles as applicable to these countries are to Ireland."

LONDON, June 14.—The Conservative Provincial papers bitterly criticise Gladstone's manifesto. Irish papers do not make comments on the manifesto a feature of these issues, but criticise, as a matter of course, according to their party leanings.

The Destroyed City

Complete Work of the Fire Fiend—A City Obliterated in Half an Hour.

It is a Race for Life—Many Victims are Caught by the Flames—The Dead.

The wildest excitement prevailed in the city yesterday after the bulletin board of THE TIMES had been issued announcing the news that Vancouver was in ashes. As the sad news spread that many victims had lost their lives in the conflagration the interest became intense. It was known that a large amount of insurance on buildings and stocks were carried by several of the insurance offices in this city, and the further fact that all of our wholesale and jobbing houses had accounts with the traders of the destroyed city.

The break in the telegraphic service (no uncommon occurrence, however,) was severely commented upon by hundreds of anxious enquirers for news of the harrowing disaster. THE TIMES office was besieged, and several extra editions had to be run to supply the demand.

CONSUMED IN THIRTY MINUTES.

An eye witness of the conflagration from its inception to its finish, describes the scene as one witnessed by but few in a life time. A correspondent of THE TIMES writes that the fire originated in a brush heap near the store of Messrs. Hayden & Co., at 2:10 p. m. Thence it communicated with the Edinburgh Saloon, and in a few seconds was spreading in every direction with the rapidity of the wind. From roof to roof the fiery wave leaped, with such force that shingles were blown off as if chaff before the wind, carrying destruction in every direction.

ON WATER STREET.

The first building to catch fire on Water street was Mr. Sullivan's. It was then but a few seconds until the fire was licking every building in all directions. The wind was blowing a gale at the time, and the extra current created by the fire became so strong that the planking on the Water street was blown hither and thither the embers from which were falling like snow upon the now terrified citizens who were fleeing for their lives screaming for aid and imploring divine mercy. Towards the Hastings mill residents deeming themselves safe came to the rescue of their fellow citizens at what was known as Granville and Gas town.

A RACE FOR LIFE.

Scarcely had they reached the Sunnyside hotel ere it became apparent that a race for life must now take place for at each bound the fire was embracing in its deadly fiery embrace a space of hundreds of feet.

One gentleman, whose residence was at least one third of a mile from the Sunnyside hotel, and close to that Mr. R. H. Alexander's, had to run at the top of his speed, and on entering his home snatched his little daughter in his arms and shouted to his wife to flee with him for her life. Another moment and it would have been too late, for he had gone but a few yards when his house was in its fiery swadling.

LOST EVERYTHING.

A number of the residents of the city had gone to New Westminster accompanying the remains of the unfortunate McCormack; others had gone on a sail up the Inlet; many went over to the Indian ranchees. When the fire broke out they had their places of business locked up as well as their personal valuables. Many a person had in his trunk his hard earned savings; some relic to remind him of the dear ones at home, many thousands of miles from Vancouver, works of art and bric-a-brac that no money can replace. Of these the owners were completely stripped. Families who had no safes lost their books, papers and documents of importance. Those who were in the city and attempting to save even their blankets had to beat a hasty retreat, while others had these burned on their backs, and it is to be feared others were caught in the flames and devoured.

THE DEAD AND MISSING.

The density of the smoke, and the rapidity with which the flames spread it is believed stupified many. Turn which way they would a wall of fire faced them. The roughness of the ground; the accumulation of brush and fallen timber rendered it impossible to move about with rapidity. This will explain the cause of so many losing their lives.

There were many providential escapes. Miss Maggie McKeon and Miss Josie Newberger were visiting at the residence of Mrs. Capt. Soule. In company with Mr. and Miss Simpson, they went out on the Inlet for a sail and returned after the fire. It is very probable that the life of at least one of the party was thereby saved.

The only structure left standing near the centre of the town is the frame of a store in course of erection by McLennan & McFeeley, on Powell street. Only the frame and rafters were up, the work of closing in not having been commenced. The flames swept through, blackening, but not destroying, the timbers, and leaving it a grim and black skeleton among the ruins.

VICTORIA'S CONTRIBUTIONS.

Late last night Mayor Fell received a telegram from Mayor McLean asking concisely that the donation of Victoria city should not be in cash, but should consist of provisions and the most necessary drugs, liniments, bandages, &c Acting in accordance with the request of this telegram, Mayor Fell this morning called on Messrs. Langley & Co., Thomas Shotbolt, George Morison, Dr. Jackson and other leading druggists, and they all voluntarily made up a case of the most necessary articles to be forwarded by them as their contribution, pro tem, towards the alleviation of the sufferers.

COLLECTIONS AT THE CHURCHES.

His Lordship Bishop Hills informed His Worship that next Sunday collections will be taken up at all the English Episcopal Churches for the benefit of the sufferers, and Mayor Fell is led to believe that the churches of all other denominations will take a similar charitable and commendable course.

THE SCHOOL OF GUNNERY.

Not to be outdone by the realistic sympathy felt on all sides, the School of Gunnery, which concluded its drill this afternoon, took up a spontaneous collection and immediately forwarded to the Mayor a handsome sum to be applied to the general relief fund.

Mr. Joseph Spratt, last night telegraphed Mayor McLean that his fishery establishment with provisions and contents was at the disposal of the Mayor and corporation of Vancouver in aid of the destitute.

Capt. Irving with commendable promptitude and liberality on behalf of the C. P. N. Co., has instructed Capt. Rudlin of the Princess Louise, as well as the purser of that steamer, to carry to Vancouver free of charge contributions and supplies in aid of the sufferers. Likewise to carry to Victoria free of transportation charges passengers from the scene of the late disaster, who have been rendered homeless. This order to stand good until next Saturday. It is also understood that the C. P. N. Co. are willing to head a subscription list in aid of the distressed in a liberal manner. It is to be hoped this liberality will be followed up by others.

The shipping in the Inlet afforded every possible relief. The officers were prompt in attending to the wants of the distressed, and especially so to the injured.

At Moodyville Messrs. Ben. Springer and William Powers were most indefatigable in their exertions to accommodate their sorely afflicted neighbors. The people of Moodyville generally were most generous with their hospitality and it was taken advantage of by many who were rendered houseless, homeless, penniless and in want of food.

A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind.

The people who had escaped the destroying blast of the lurid monster felt this and acted accordingly.

Assistance was sent from Port Moody, and a number found shelter, protection and food there, served out with no stinted hand or will. Here each vied with his neighbor as to which could do most for their distressed countrymen in the rival terminal city. Strife and contention for the time being was dropped The relief of suffering humanity taking precedence over everything.

IN VICTORIA.

The Princess Louise on Monday night had close upon three hundred on board for this city. A vast concourse of sympathizing friends met them at the wharf; many wives were their to greet their husbands; brother and sister to welcome a brother, and friend to meet friend. A noticeable feature was observed in the fact that but few carried even a gripsack. The sight of a satchel was indeed rare. Not a solitary trunk was taken on board at Vancouver. Those on board, it was only too evident, had lost their all excepting the garments in which they were clad when overtaken by the fiery fiend. The clothing on some was scant and in many instances almost in shreds. The scratched faces, the bandaged limbs and the woe begone looks many wore indicated only too well the hardships they had gone through on the previous day.

On leaving the steamer one after another was besieged by an eager crowd anxious to learn the latest concerning the fearful holocaust. Throughout the city, during the evening, groups were to be observed in every direction discussing the situation. Everyone expressed a sympathetic word for the distressed. As one spectator of the awful carnival recited his or some one else's hair-breadth escape, the wonder is that the number of casualties are not very much greater.

was besieged from an early hour in the morning until long past midnight by anxious enquirers for news and answers to dispatches. In the early part of the day the wires were down, but shortly after 2 o'clock the wires began to work and continued to do so until all the messages sent in had been sent, occupying the continued efforts of an operator until after 2 o'clock this morning. Each one bringing in a dispatch was anxious that his or hers should receive precedence over many dozens that had been filed many hours previously.

As responses to messages began to arrive, anxious ones were relieved, but not until midnight had passed did the crowd that besieged the wicket began to scatter. Mr. Archibald and his assistant Mr. Christie during the long seige used their best endeavors to allay the fears and anxiety of the enquirers by imparting to them every possible information.

RELIEF TO THE SUFFERERS.

The Princess Louise left at 2:35 for Vancouver, carrying the supplies contributed by the government and council. A large number of passengers were on board, including several ladies. Mr. Robert Grant, of Grant & Arkell, has purchased a full line of goods, and returns to Vancouver to arrange for a building to put them in. Mr. Dufour, also one of the sufferers, has gone up for the same purpose. Although the disaster was complete, and severe enough to crush the energy out of most people, it is reassuring to find that all parties are hopeful and will begin again with renewed energy. The second building of Vancouver will be even more rapid than the first and of a much more substantial character.

A GENEROUS OFFER.

The good services of the powerful tug Alexander, generously offered by Robert Dunsmuir, M. P. P., to carry provisions to Vancouver were not brought into requisition, as the steamer Princess Louise was sufficient for the emergency. But the kind offer of Mr. Dunsmuir is, nevertheless, thoroughly and properly appreciated.

SUPT. ABBOTT'S VIEWS.

Mr. Harry Abbott, Superintendent of the Pacific Coast division of the Canadian Pacific Railway was interviewed at New Westminster this (Tuesday) morning respecting the rebuilding of the burned city of Vancouver, at the terminus of the Canadian transcontinental line. Mr. Abbott was of the opinion that the location of the business streets will be very little altered, but that many business men, who had been holding back, would now hasten the construction of important buildings, blocks stores, etc.

A large number of men have been engaged to clear off the Canadian Pacific Railway property. The company is disposed to deal very liberally with those who were burned out and lost their all. Those of them who wish to re-build will be given lots without any cash payment, and work will be immediately given to those who desire it.

While the city has received a serious set back, Mr. Abbott expects that it will go ahead again with renewed vigor.

FREIGHT.

The Number of Victims, Seven—Names of those Identified.

Twenty Buildings Already Commenced—All Hopeful.

VANCOUVER, June 15.—The total number of victims of the fire is supposed to be seven. Those identified are: A. J. Fawcett, soda water manufacturer, formerly of Manitoba; John Croswell, of Port Hill, P. E. I., owner of a block of tenement houses; and Mrs. Nash. Two others are supposed to be Frank Hill, of Farwell, and George Bailey, bartender of the Burrard. Two corpses cannot be identified. Blankets and provisions are being distributed by the government.

Over twenty small buildings are already commenced. Most of the merchants and business men will recommence. Ferguson and some others will rebuild with brick. All are hopeful.

RAPIDLY REBUILDING.

VANCOUVER, June 15.—Parties are rebuilding rapidly. The C. P. R. Hotel, Macpherson proprietor, is nearly rebuilt. Others are showing equal energy. Up till now nine bodies have been found: Messrs. Cresswell, Baillie, Fawcett and Lamberts and Mrs. Nash identified.

NEW WESTMINSTER LOTS.

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 15.—At the auction sale of city lots to day, over $7000 was realized. Prices ranged from $300 to $955 according to location.

A STRANGE CASE.

A Hamilton Mock Marriage Not so Much of a "Mock" After All.

The Canada Gazette contains a notice that application will be made to parliament next session for a Divorce bill to dissolve a mock marriage, which turned out to be a legally contracted union. The petitioner is Dr. William Arthur Lavell, of Smith's Falls, son of Dr. Michael Lavell, warden of Kingston penitentiary. He asked for a bill declaring that a certain ceremony and contract of marriage solemnized and entered into at the city of Hamilton, on the 29th day of September, A. D., 1882, between the said William Arthur Lavell by and under the name of Arthur Vane and Ada Mary Caton, then in the village of Newburgh, in the county of Lennox and Addington, by and under the name of Marie Herbert, was and is null and void, on the ground that the said marriage was solemnized and entered into by and under false names. Some time after the supposed bogus wedding it was found that a genuine marriage license had been issued and that the gentleman who performed the ceremony was a regularly ordained clergyman. Legal advice was sought, and the late Mr. Bethune, Q. C., and the firm of Blake, Kerr, Lash & Cassels advised Dr. Lavell that the marriage was valid and binding. Miss Caton was never informed of the real state of affairs and some time after the mock wedding married a young man from Newburgh, and to relieve her from all danger of being prosecuted for bigamy, as well as to set himself free, Dr. Lavell has made application for a divorce.

MANCHESTER GUARDIAN.

MANCHESTER, June 14.—The Guardian says that of Gladstone, Salisbury and Chamberlain. Gladstone alone sees the desperate circumstances in which the country is placed by the mistaken policy on the Irish question and that he alone perceives how those circumstances can be best dealt with. "We are confident" adds the Guardian, "that the country will endorse the premier's diagnosis and proposed remedy, for they are based on rigorous common sense."

THE SCOTSMAN ON GLADSTONE.

EDINBURGH, June 14.—The Scotsman says Gladstone in his manifesto misrepresents the issue. Parliament, the Scotsman contends, never voted on the question of coercion versus Home Rule. If it had, it would never have tolerated the government on this issue.

SUICIDE OF A KING.

MUNICH, June 14.—Ludwig, who was recently deposed from the Bavarian throne, committed suicide at 6 o'clock yesterday evening. He had gone out for a promenade in the park of Berg Castle, accompanied by Dr. Gudden, his physician. The king suddenly threw himself into Starnburg Lake and was drowned. The physician jumped into the water to rescue the king, and was also drowned.

THE QUEEN REGENT.

MADRID, June 13.—The Queen regent presided to-day at the first cabinet council since her accouchement. To celebrate that event she has commuted the sentence in certain classes of prisoners.

THE FRENCH EXILE.

LONDON, June 14.—Queen Victoria has offered Compte de Paris, during his exile from France under the terms of the expulsion bill, the use of Claremont castle, where Louis Phillippe found a home and where he died. Compte de Paris declined the Queen's offer on the grounds he does not intend to reside in England permanently.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD.

OTTAWA, June 14.—Sir John Macdonald is at present closely engaged with the fisheries and other important matters and the date of his departure for his proposed visit to the northwest has not been made known.

MARINE.

The Alexander arrived from the Cape at 8 o'clock this morning, after towing the Commodore to sea. She will tow the Titania, coal laden for San Francisco, out this afternoon.

The ship carpenters engaged in raising the John Rosenfeld have shored up the decks and are prepared to close down hatches and ports. It is expected that the ship will float on her decks at the next high tide, which will be on Thursday or Friday. The Alexander will then make an attempt to tow her off, and if successful will bring her in to Esquimalt.

The Chevy Chase, which has been expected for some time, has not yet been heard of.

NOVA SCOTIAN ELECTIONS.

A fierce contest is now being waged in Nova Scotia between the government and its opponents. By the government and a large number of the people of the Atlantic seaboard province it is claimed that Nova Scotia has retrograded rather than progressed since confederation. That the increased burden by way of taxation heaped on the shoulders of the people has become almost overbearing; that no corresponding benefit has resulted from the union, which was forced upon the people practically without their consent and accepted with great reluctance. A strong feeling for repealing the relations existing between that province and the rest of the Dominion has arisen. One of the leaders in that agitation says:

"This province was forced into the union with Canada against the will of the people. Our legislature was bought in 1867 in a fashion and manner which simply duplicated the Castlereagh outrage at Dublin."

Wholesale bribery and corruption in connection with the capture of Nova Scotia for the union are still bitterly alleged. The depth of the popular feeling at that time may be inferred from the fact that, after the union had been determined on, eighteen of the nineteen members elected to attend the first Dominion Parliament were anti-confederates. Sir CHARLES TUPPER, the present high Canadian commissioner at London, was the only union candidate who pulled through, and he had only an insignificant majority. In the provincial election at the same time all but two of the thirty-sight men elected to the Assembly were "antis." It is little exaggeration to say that nothing has happened since 1867 to lessen in any degree the hostility of the Canadian confection which was thus positively and singularly manifested. The natural trade relations of Nova Scotia are with Portland and Boston almost exclusively. There is no union of interest whatever between that province and Ontario. The policy of protection in which Ontario delights is an abomination there; and, from the nature of things, the confederation, which alone makes the enforcement of that policy in Nova Scotia possible, shares in its disrepute. The presence of the Hon. Mr. THOMPSON, Minister of Justice, and Hon. Mr. MCLELAN, Minister of Finance, from Ottawa, has intensified the feeling on both sides. These gentlemen are urging their fellow countrymen to remain in the union, holding out inducements as to the policy the government will pursue toward them in the future. Of late large sums have been voted to extend the railway system of the Dominion there. Next to the office of premier the two most important portfolios, are held by Nova Scotians as well as the exalted position of Canada's Chief Commissioner in Great Britain. The votes will be polled to-morrow and the issue then decided by the highest tribunal in the land—the people at the ballot box.

POLITICAL strife in Canada is sufficiently virulent without including women among the victims to be bespattered with its mud. Three years ago, an Ottawa newspaper,—not under its present editorship—saw fit to circulate certain untrue and malicious statements of the correspondent of a New York journal, as to the unfriendly relations alleged to exist between the two highest ladies in the land. Its re-publications of these unfair and unmanly allusions to ladies, who, apart from the silence imposed by the exalted position of both of them, were prevented by their sex from refuting the slander, was vigorously condemned by the press of both political parties, and the offence, which was, I believe, due rather to thoughtlessness than malice on the part of the then editor of your contemporary—though the original statement in the New York letter were undoubtedly both false and malicious—was never repeated by him.

THE total expenditure up to the first of May in connection with the Northwest rebellion was $4,451,584. Rebellions come high, but Canadians have the satisfaction of knowing that Riel could not blackmail them into pensioning him off.

INTERNATIONAL POSTAL RATES.

During a recent discussion in the House of Commons some interesting facts were brought to light touching the postal regulations of Great Britain. Attention was called to the discrimination against British subjects in the matter of charges for postal service as compared with the citizens of other countries. It was admitted that the cost to Englishmen of sending letters, newspapers and merchandise samples to the colonial possessions of Great Britain was in many cases two or three times that charged for similar services from Germany and France. In many cases, also, the mails from those countries were conveyed in British vessels. The reason for this discrimination given by the postal authorities was that in order to equalize expenses and to pay the expenses of sending letters to continental countries overland cheaply, it was necessary to charge the mails carried by water double what would be ordinarily charged. The fact that the mails carried by water nearly all went to British possessions, while those going overland went to foreign countries, was used as a proof of the lack of administrative ability in the British post office. The effect of the discriminations was, it was stated, to discourage British trade with its colonial possessions, and trade which would be otherwise with Great Britain was diverted to foreign countries. An interesting point brought out was that in the matter of merchandise samples, the cost of sending them to the East from Great Britain was just three times what would be from Germany or France. This, it was stated, was practically prohibition. In connection with this matter it is interesting to recall the bill brought into the United States Senate by a western senator this session proposing to raise the charge on this class of matter from 16 to 32c. per pound, and thus practically prohibit the transaction of this kind of business through the mails. This bill, which was directly in the interest of express companies, although ostensibly in the interest of country storekeepers, would bring about practically the same condition of things complained of by the British mercantile public, namely, trade discrimination through the medium of governmental machinery.

MINING DANGERS.

In their final report the British mines commissioners say that the most extensive collieries are susceptible of perfect ventilation by means of properly constructed furnaces, or by mechanical contrivances such as are already in use at most of the collieries. In referring to the numerous casualties reported, due to falls of the roof and sides of workings, the commissioners suggest, among other things, the proper training of each miner to the best modes of timbering and of otherwise protecting his working place, as well as the maintenance of enlarged supervision. It appears to be the opinion of the commission, in regard to explosions due to sudden outbursts of gas in mines, that safety would be much more likely by increasing vigilance on the part of officials and workmen than, as noted by Nature, through placing reliance on the issuing of meteorological warnings. Speaking further of explosions, the commissioners say that the disastrous effects of fire-damp explosions in coal mines are almost always aggravated by the existence of coal-dust in dry mine-workings and roadways. It appears that the firing of powder shots in a dry mine-working, where dust exists in abundance, must always be liable to be attended with disastrous results, if the air in such a locality is contaminated by fire-damp to ever so small a degree. After alluding to the only partial efficacy of water, and of deliquescent salts in conjunction with water, when used for the purpose of removing the danger ous coal dust, the commissioners conclude that the dangers which attend the firing of powder shots in dry-mine-workings, where there is an abundance of dust, and where the air may contain perhaps but a small proportion of fire-damp, cannot be effectually guarded against. On this account they recommend the abolition of the use of powder in mines where the conditions above indicated exist, unless unusual precautions be taken to remove the dust. The commissioners conclude by urging that all mines be examined by means of indicators capable of detecting as small a proportion as 1 per cent. of gas, such examinations to be made before the commencement of each day shift, and that the Secretary of State require safety lamps to be used in all dry mines where the air may be laden with coal dust and where fire-damp exists. The report calls attention to the fact that the ordinary safety lamps have ceased to afford protection from explosion in the present improved ventilation of collieries. The state is asked to prohibit the use of such lamps where such improved ventilation exists in mines. The commissioners express the hope that the great progress which has recently been made in the construction of portable electric lamps may lead to a speedy utilization of such lamps to an important extent in coal mines.

TO THE ELECTORS OF Victoria City District.

GENTLEMEN,—In soliciting the honor of your suffrages at the ensuing election, I do so at the request of a large number of voters.

I am in sympathy with the policy of the present Government, and so long as they continue to administer the affairs of the Province as heretofore they shall, if you do me the honor of electing me, receive my support.

At the same time, I wish it to be distinctly understood that I shall reserve to myself the privilege of studying what I may consider to be your interests before that of any party policy. At a public meeting to be held shortly I shall be happy to meet you and there express my views more fully.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Yours respectfully,
june14 E. G. PRIOR.

REQUISITION.

To R. Dunsmuir, Esq.' M.P.P.

THE UNDERSIGNED, Electors and residents of Nanaimo District, wishing to be represented in the Provincial Parliament by gentlemen who we feel have the general welfare of the Province at heart, and believing from the large interests you have amongst us that your services will be of much value to this constituency, hereby request that you will allow yourself to be nominated as a candidate for the representation of this district at the next election, and we pledge ourselves to use our utmost endeavors to secure your return.

REPLY.

VICTORIA, 25th May, 1885.

TO MESSRS. J. WEBB, J. PARGETER, W. AKENHEAD and others.

GENTLEMEN:—Until the receipt of your numerously signed requisition it was not my intention to become a candidate for your district, for I felt that you might consider my time was so thoroughly occupied with my own business affairs that your interests could be better entrusted to other hands than my own. I cannot, however, disregard the requisition you have so kindly sent me, recognizing therein that whatever has been lacking in my effort on your behalf you credit me in the past with good intentions, and express confidence as to my conserving your interests in the future. I cannot afford to refuse compliance with the wishes of so many who are residents of a district in which I have spent the best portion of my life and in which they and myself have a common interest. I therefor heartily thank you for the nomination and cheerfully accept it, and if elected I shall do my best to promote the well being of your constituency.

I believe that the Government which I have supported during the past four years has materially advanced the prosperity of the Province, and while their efforts are continued in the same direction, I shall, if elected, render them independent support, believing such a course will be in the best interest of the country and in accordance with the view of the great majority of the whole people.

I am Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

Canadians Ask Better Facilities for Reaching Interior Markets.

An Ottawa dispatch announces that Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, has left for Nova Scotia to supervise the cases of the American fishing schooners seized by the Canadian government, which will be tried in the Vice-Admiralty Court of Nova Scotia.

A large delegation waited on the Minister of Railways to-day and presented a petition signed by thirty members of Parliament praying that cheap and easy means for the transportation of fish be afforded, that rates on the Intercolonial Railway be reduced to the lowest figures, and that refrigerator cars be provided. The delegation represented that by so doing the government would be giving benefits to the people of the sea coast and of the interior. Fish merchants were paying higher prices for their fish from Boston, Portland, and other United States points than they would if they obtained them from Halifax. The Minister promised to consider the matter.

A dispatch from Arichat says that the fishing schooner Thomas L. Tarr, Capt. Wright, sailed from that port this morning after having obtained a supply of water. Capt. Wright says that a Gloucester fisherman, the other day, seeing one of the privateers, sailed outside of the three-mile limit, and when the latter disappeared returned to Gros Nez and purchased $70 worth of bait. Some American vessels have avoided detection by obtaining supplies during the night.

The Massachusetts House has adopted a resolution declaring that the Senate and House of Representatives of Massachusetts look to Congress and the Executive Department of the national Government for prompt and decided action, to the end that American fishermen may be protected in the exercise of their lawful rights, and that further complications in regard to the commercial privileges of our citizens in British ports may be avoided.

ONDERDONK'S CONTRACT.

Winnipeg Free Press: One difficulty in connection with the opening up of the through line of Canadian Pacific Railway is the retention under the control of Mr. Onderdonk of that section of the road built by him. He and the Dominion government are at loggerheads on the subject, and pending the settlement of his claims he retains possession of the road between Port Moody and Kamloops. He charges even the C. P. R. magistrates who travel over it ten cents a mile. Tolls are also exacted for any use the company may make of the telegraph lines built along this section. Mr. Onderdonk is now at Ottawa, trying to arrive at some conclusion. Probably an arrangement will be made by which the whole line will come under the control of the C. P. R. management before the date fixed for the opening of transcontinental traffic.

A consignment of boots and shoes brought here by an American has been seized for being entered at about half their value.

Andrew Carnegie, the millionaire steel manufacturer, has given $250,000 to Allegheny City for establishing a free library and music hall. This is in addition to his gift of $300,000 to Pittsburg.

The largest match factory in the United States situated at Akron, O., turns out 57,000,000 matches in one day when run to its full capacity. That enormous production gives one match per day to every man, woman and child in the country.

The various libraries in Edinburgh contain a total number of 750,000 volumes, equal to 3.24 volumes per head of the population. This proportion is exceeded by only three large cities in the world, Munich, Washington and Rome.

The valuable stock of Catholic Church ornaments and work of art of Charles B. Lenclot have been seized by the customs officials on the ground of systematically entering consignments on false invoices below their actual value.

Newberry gave Chicago nearly $3,000,000 for library purposes. Enoch Pratt gave Baltimore upward of $1,000,000; Mrs. Fiske gave Cornell $1,500,000; Judge Packer gave Lehigh University $500,000; Professor Horsford gave Wellesley nearly $250,000.

THE Toronto Telegram asserts that it is quite on the cards that Mr. C. F. Fraser will be transplanted from Toronto to Ottawa. He has accomplished in the smaller field about all that can be expected of him and would be of great usefulness to Mr. Blake in the larger. His declarations in the House in favor of Riel may be taken as a straw showing in which direction the wind is blowing, his object being to commend himself to the French electors as one of their champions in the Legislature. Mr. Fraser is a man of ability and as a debater has proved himself a match for any man the other side has been able to put against him in the legislature. If he were called higher at the next Dominion election Mr. Peter Ryan, or some other Catholic, would have to be selected to take his place, and if he could do so much for Mr. Blake as he has done for Mr. Mowat, the shuffle of the cards would be a profitable one.

Confederation will be 19 years old on the 1st of July. Canada's debt in the time has increased $200,000,000 and is still rolling up.

BAIRD'S MINSTRELS.

A Benefit to be Given this Evening for Vancouver's Sufferers.

The Baird combination of minstrels gave a most enjoyable performance last evening at the Victoria to a large and critical audience. The entertainment opened with a burnt cork medley in which the end men were capital in their jokes and witticisms. The orchestral accompaniments were especially pleasing and amongst the vocal solos, "The Fisherman and his Child," sung by Mr. W. E. Smith, was a feature of the programme. "Club vs. Gloves" was funny, the Port Townsed pie-biter being blown out in the final round amidst roars of laughter. In the second part of the programme Mr. N. Carl gave an excellent representation of his ability as a soloist on the slide trombo, and then came "Moonlight Frolics," more fun for the boys at the outset than their ancient parents who eventually, however, had to chime in. The female impersonations by the Leech Brothers—or brother—it was difficult to tell which, so rapid were the changes and similarity of voice, were extremely good, and the contortions of Mr. Wm. E. Conkling, who seems to have no limbs at all, could only have been excelled by the political limbs of the editor of the Colonist. First standing on one leg, then on no leg at all, and finally reaching the stage legs up, backbone broken and head nowhere. During the latter part of the performance Mayor Fell stepped upon the stage and announced that the management had very generously offered to give one-fourth of the gross proceeds of this evening's house towards the alleviation of the sufferers from the Vancouver city holocaust. The announcement was received with applause, and this evening there will doubtless be a crowded house for charity and sympathy as well as for the thorough enjoyment of an excellent performance.

AN INVALID.

The Editor of the Colonist Hospitals Himself Near Parson's Bridge.

It is reported that Councillor D. W. Higgins is laid up at Parson's Bridge with a severe attack of fever politicus. The balmy air of the Esquimalt district, coupled with a dose of Esquimalt sidewalks administered by the government doctor, assisted by his own preparation of Victoria city market cordial, is fully expected to have the desired effect of quieting his nerves. During his delirium he continues to call for James Bay balm, but the Esquimalt district doctor will not administer it on any account, giving as a reason that the patient has taken too much of that compound now; the doctor advises instead the Edgar balm, which had such an invigorating effect upon him some years ago.

THE SPROULE CASE.

A dispatch reaches the Canadian papers from Washington, of the 5th inst., in reference to Sproule, who is now under sentence of death in this city for murder, upon the alleged perjured testimony to the effect that the officials of the State Department have stated that they had procured two reprieves from the Canadian authorities, but that the demands of these authorities were so unreasonable that it was not probable that Sproule's life could be saved. The Canadian officials have said that Sproule's life would be saved if he could produce the witness upon whose perjured testimony he claims he was convicted. The dispatch further states that as Sproule is locked up, and has no one to help him this is a virtual impossibility. The State Department is doing what it can to help the prisoner, but it is doubtful of the result.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

We wish to call special attention to a nice assortment of millinery and straw goods now being opened which will be found of the latest styles and most fashionable colors. White, and are marked at prices that will insure a speedy sale.

BROWN & WHITE.

ARRIVAL THIS DAY.

MR. BEAVEN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. BEAVEN, in a brief and pointed address, enunciates his views on the main issue before the electors. The financial question is necessarily one of paramount importance in the government of all countries, and in British Columbia it has attained, under the rule of an incompetent administration, to exceptional prominence at the present juncture in her history. The SMITHE government assumed office when the finances of the province were in a prosperous condition. The enormous expenditures on railway construction were just beginning to be felt, and there after increased year by year. People were attracted by hundreds and by thousands to the province, in consequence of the approaching completion of the Canadian Pacific railway. The revenues of the province expanded in sympathy with the universal prosperity. The money received from the sale of the dry dock, amounting to $384,000, was refunded to the province. If ever, in the history of British Columbia, it was possible for a government to retire from office with a balance to its credit, after all legitimate demands had been granted, the SMITHE party had that opportunity. But what do we find? During the three and a half years in which they have been in charge, they have squandered all the money they received—ordinary revenues, dry dock refund and Dominion subsidy in advance! But for the favor of the Bank of British Columbia, which advanced the spendthrifts over $140,000, without security, the ordinary obligations of the province could not have been met. This, in brief, is the financial record of the SMITHE government. It is specially the phase of their malversation in office to which Mr. BEAVEN calls attention. Their administration of public lands is equally culpable, and probably in the years to come will be found to have been of ten fold more injury to the country than the unparalleled extravagances indicated above. The province would survive if the revenues for the year were chucked into the sea, but it cannot barter away its sources of revenue without inviting bankruptcy and inevitably becoming a pauper at the door of the Dominion. With Mr. SMITHE again in power, one term will be sufficient to complete the work he and his colleagues have so far advanced; but such a calamity is not among the probabilities, as from the mountains to the sea the universal cry is "Turn the rascals out."

VERY DISINTERESTED.

The government organ refers to the personnel of the respective tickets and pronounces its opinion upon the relative fitness of the several gentlemen. Placed injuxtaposition, the remarkable disinterestedness of the comparisons becomes manifest:

GOVERNMENT.	OPPOSITION.
"Mr. Duck's recent budget speech was very able and will always rank high as a STATE PAPER.	Mr. Beaven has demonstrated his unfitness. As a legislator he is incompetent and carping.
Mr. T. Davie has done the state some service. Has succeeded in passing many measures of importance and value to the province.	Mr. R. T. Williams is a young man of considerable self-esteem and much egotism. Would make a good member of the new silent brigade.
J. H. Turner is a leading merchant, and was one of the best chief magistrates Victoria ever had.	Councillor Lipsett—If Shakespeare who said "Let me have men about me who are fat," were alive he would vote for Coun. Lipsett.
E. G. Prior will make a good member.	J. Wrigglesworth would make an indifferent legislator.

The electors are expected by the writer to swallow this sort of trash with unquestioning faith. But will they?

DUST, BUT NO WATER.

The fire department steam engine, "Deluge," continues to puff and puff at the tank on the intersection of Fort and Douglas streets, forcing water to the higher levels. Whilst the engine does its work well it is strange that the Council have made the street-sprinkled portion of the city so circumscribed that Fort street, beyond Douglas, is never, or hardly ever, watered. But still the Celestial just above the Royal Hotel takes the gentle precaution of turning the city water supply on the burnt debris between his premises and the Mechanics' Institute. The dust is abominable, and unless Victoria this summer is to be designated "The city of the Blind," immediate steps should be taken in the proper quarter to lift the injunction which places its heel on the sanatory. Old time residents of Victoria will remember that for two years the streets were sprinkled thoroughly with water taken from James Bay. There was no bad result, and hence why should not the experience be repeated at least until the injunction valve blows out?

THE POLITICAL TURF.

The London Punch, which has been placed on the editorial table of THE TIMES by Messrs. T. N. Hibben & Co., contains an excellent double steet cartoon descriptive of the political race just finished in England, so far as the vote on the Home Rule question is concerned. The cartoon gives four horses ridden by four of the leading politicians of the day. Chamberlain on the outside is riding "Unity," and comes in winner with plenty in hand; Gladstone, is a close second on "Autonomy," who is jaded and has been ridden for all he is worth. Lord Salisbury is coming in very slowly on "Coercion" and Hartington on "Whig" has got a very keen eye on "Unity" and "Autonomy." Adapted to our local politics the cartoon has just now peculiarly interesting points.

RINGS AND MONOPOLIES.

Time has worked great changes in Mr. Duck and also in the organ. In Feb. 1876, the Colonist said:

"Duck's friends are principally to be found in rings, in monopoly, cliques and amongst those who have forced themselves at the people's expense."

Does this not apply with greater force against "Hon." Mr. Duck in 1886?

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Adjournment of the Annual Convention at Cleveland.

The Labor Cause and Trade Union—Wise Legislation.

The convention of Knights of Labor which has been in session at Cleveland has adjourned, after issuing a general address to the workingmen, and putting forward through its committee on legislation a number of demands for legislation by Congress, especially in relation to the public lands. The chief outcome of the convention seems to be an increase of the influence of the radical over the conservative elements in the organization. The General Executive Board has been enlarged by the addition of six extra members. A proposition to give the board the sole power to order a strike was amended by authorizing the district assemblies to do so "in cases of emergency." It has been asserted in newspaper reports of the proceedings of the convention that that body was captured by a combination of radical elements known as the "Home Club," who were said to be opposed to General Master Workman Powderly's influence; but the assembly has issued a manifesto declaring that all newspaper reports of serious dissensions among the Knights are absolutely unfounded, and that the increase of the executive board and the character of the men elected have no significance of the kind attributed to them.

BROTHERS IN THE CAUSE OF LABOR.

Amongst the most important resolutions adopted by the organization was the following manifesto: We, the Knights of Labor (in General Assembly convened), extend our heartiest greeting to all branches of honorable toil, welcoming them to the most friendly alliance in a common work. This organization embraces within its folds all branches of honorable toil and conditions of men, without respect to trade, occupation, sex, creed, color or nationality. We seek to raise the level of wages and reduce the hours of labor, to protect men and women in their occupations, in their lives and limbs, and in their rights as citizens. We seek also to secure such legislation as shall tend to prevent the unjust accumulation of wealth, to restrict the powers of monopolies and corporations, and to enact such wise and beneficent legislation as shall promote equity and justice, looking forward to the day when the co-operative shall supersede the wage system and the castes and classes that now divide men shall be forever abolished. We recognize the service rendered to humanity and the cause of labor by trade union organizations, but believe that the time has come, or is fast approaching, when all who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow shall be enrolled under one general head, as we are controlled by one common law—the law of our necessity, and we will gladly welcome to our ranks, or to protection under our banner, any organization requesting admission, and to such organizations as believe that their interests are better protected under their present form of government we pledge ourselves as members of

of labor to co-operate with them in every honorable effort to achieve the success which we are unitedly organized to attain. To this end we have appointed a special committee to confer with a like committee of any national or international trades union which shall desire to confer with us on the settlement of any difficulties that may occur between the members of the several organizations. We have received a communication from a committee of the national officers of some of the national and international trades unions, requesting certain specific legislation at our hands, but as we believe that the object sought and stated in the preamble to the communication above referred to can best be accomplished by a conference between a committee of this association and a committee of any other organization, and as the propositions contained therein are inconsistent with our duty to our members, we therefore defer action upon them until a conference of such committees can be had. The basis upon which we believe an agreement can be reached would necessarily include the adoption of some plan by which all labor organizations could be protected from unfair men, men expelled, suspended, under fine, or guilty of taking the places of Union men or of Knights of Labor while on a strike, or while locked out from farm work, and that as fast as possible

A UNIFORM STANDARD OF HOURS

of labor and wages should be adopted, so that men of any trade enrolled in our order and members of trade unions may not come in conflict because of the difference in wages or hours of labor. We also believe that a system of exchanging working cards should be adopted, so that members of any craft belonging to different organizations could work in harmony together, the card of any member of this order admitting to work in any union shop, and the card of any union man admitting him to work in any K. of L. shop. We further believe that upon a demand for increase of wages or shorter hours of labor, made by either organization, a conference should be held with the organized labor employed in the establishment where the demand for increase of wages or reduction of hours is contemplated. Action upon proposed reduction of wages or other difficulty to be agreed upon in like manner; and that in the settlement of any difficulties between employers and employees, the organizations represented in the establishment shall be parties to the terms of settlement. Trusting that the method proposed herein will meet with your approval, and that organized labor will move forward and onward in harmony of effort and of interest.

THE NATIONALISTS SAFE.

Every nationalist's seat is counted safe, except possibly South Tyrone and South Derry. The intention to contest Birmingham against Chamberlain has been given up. Gladstone fears that if the opposition be pushed and Gladstone's strength, now undeveloped, be brought out, Chamberlain will be left without a following in parliament, which is the last thing tacticians of the party would desire. The more the opposition is split in separate sections the better will be the eventual prospects of Home Rule.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

IS HE A BRITISH SUBJECT?

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

There is a report going the rounds of the city that D. W. Higgins, a candidate for suffrage at the coming general election is an American citizen. Will you kindly enlighten many others besides myself? STARS & STRIPES.

[To those who know St. David since early days—and there are many still in the city—there is no doubt about his citizenship. When still a baby he was taken by his father to the U. S.; his father became an American citizen, which made the youthful David an American. After coming of age, he exercised the rights of citizenship in San Francisco and elsewhere in the U. S. In 1862, in a public meeting in this city, the American element being in the ascendancy, he "thanked God that he was not an Englishman," and never since landing on our shores has he sworn allegiance to the Queen of Great Britain. Should he by any chance be elected for Esquimalt he will be unseated on petition, unless before nomination day he becomes naturalized.]

REPLY TO "UNION JACK."

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—"Union Jack" in the Colonist of to-day can rest assured that I am no only a British subject, but what is more I never said that I thanked God I was not an Englishman, as the editor of the Colonist did a few years ago, when he was trying to make a raise by advocating annexation. Another thing I can assure "Union Jack" is that I neither belong to the "Silent brigade" (the editor tries to make out) nor do I belong to the "thieving brigade."

In spite of the sudden and unfortunate reverse his paper met with at Vancouver he was on board the steamer Princess Louise again this afternoon ready to put up a printing office and let the world know what the new Vancouver will do. Pluck. The News will appear again in a week or two just as spicy and truthful as ever.

An application was read from Mr. Edwin Legg for a transfer for license at the Occidental Hotel from Luke Pither.

Supt. Bloomfield offered no objection and the transfer was accordingly granted.

From Michael Powers and J. Johnson, for a transfer of license from Geo. Blackall, of the Albion saloon Yates street.

Counsel appeared in support of the application.

In reply to the court the Supt. of Police stated that he knew nothing about Mr. Powers, but Mr. Johnson had been recommended to him by Captain Rudlin of the C. P. N. Co.

The bench granted the transfer.

Application for transfer from N. Allan, to H. Sidward, who stated that he intended in future to call the premises "The Concordia." Granted.

NEW TO-DAY.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE City of Victoria.

GENTLEMEN—

The Legislative Assembly having been dissolved, I again respectfully solicit your suffrages. I consider that the record of the Smithe administration must condemn it in the eyes of all thinking men. Assuming office, as they did when the province was in a prosperous financial condition, and when railway construction and the opening of railway communication with the Northern Pacific coast was attracting population to our shores, and when a firm defence of the rights of the province would have brought about a final and satisfactory settlement of our just claims against the Federal government they have in the short space of three and a half years, during which they have held office, relinquished our rights; sold and given away the property of the province, illegally borrowed, and squandered money and brought the country to the verge of that disaster which prevailed when Mr Smithe was removed from the position of Finance Minister eight years ago. The government boast that the revenue has largely increased under their management; an analysis of the figures show that the increase is due to the sale of the graving dock: the sale of lands; the tax collected from men temporarily employed upon the railway; and the forfeiture of McNamee & Co's deposit of nearly $12,000 on account of the dock contract. It is needless for me to point out that such sources of revenue cannot be relied upon in the future.

The fact was disclosed at the last sitting of parliament that the salaries of ministers, of the civil servants, of the school teachers, and the grants to charitable institutions, were paid and the general business of the country carrried on only through the courtesy of the manager of the Bank of British Columbia in honoring the Finance Minister's cheque, against which there were no funds to draw, and, as you will remember, the Legislature was asked to, and did sanction the issue of $300,000 in provincial bonds to meet the overdraft.

As I deem it to be the duty of a candidate to meet the electors upon a public platform in order to explain his views, I shall take an early opportunity to do so, assuring you that if elected I shall endeavor to advance the interests of this city and of the province generally.

ROBERT BEAVEN.

June 15, 1886.

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA CITY.

GENTLEMEN:

Having been solicited in a largely signed requisition to offer myself as a candidate for Victoria City at the approaching Provincial Election I have the honor to announce my compliance with the request.

In soliciting your votes and interest I have to state that I come forward as a supporter of the present Government, being quite satisfied that their policy has been beneficial to the Province.

If returned I shall give my support to every measure, emanating from whatever source, which has for its object the promotion of the welfare of this district and the province in general.

FROM AND AFTER THIS DATE MEN'S and boys' straw hats will be offered at a discount of from 20 to 25 per cent. It is early in the season for such a reduction, but circumstances make the reduction imperative. In the first place, times are dull. In the second place, I have a very large stock of straw hats. The law of Demand and Supply does not seem to govern this branch of trade at all. Either there are too many straw hats, or else there are too few men and boys. Which of these theories is the correct one is immaterial. The fact remains that in the matter of straw hats I am in danger of (to use a parliamentary phrase) getting left. It is to avoid such a catastrophe, therefore, ladies and gentlemen, that I make this reduction—and make it thoroughly and immediate.
